Dear friends!

We are looking for a not Spanish partner (one or more) for a project which we would like to present to the European Commission under a programme called "Progress". Progress is the EU’s employment and social solidarity programme.

Currently the European Commission is looking for proposals for social experiments, which are for example innovative projects related to the transition from institutional care to alternative forms of care for persons with disabilities.

We were thinking about a project of a group home for deafblind persons, but we are also open to other ideas. Maybe you have been considering something similar in your country and would like to start a pilot project.

These projects are co-financed by the European Commission with 80% and should last between 1 and 2 years. Projects have to be submitted to the European Commission till 31 August 2010, so if you are interested please let me know as soon as possible.

I hope that you are enjoying the summer and looking forward to seeing several of you soon!
