

Analysis of some recommendations to prevent and treat respiratory tract infections in people with deafblindness.

José Darío Rendón Nieblas & Marta Elena Ramírez

Summary: We will share a series of recommendations that we prepared and compiled to prevent the spread of respiratory diseases in people with deaf blindness and what to do if any of them get COVID-19. We will discuss how we prepared these recommendations and we will analyze each one together, in order to learn to identify the useful elements to formulate strategies applicable to deafblind people in emergency situations, as well as to enrich our knowledge to face the pandemic we are currently experiencing.
